FBI FOIPA Addendum

As referenced in our letter responding to your Freedom of Information/Privacy Acts (FOIPA) request, the FBI FOIPA Addendum provides information applicable to your request. Part 1 of the Addendum includes standard responses that apply to all requests. Part 2 includes standard responses that apply to requests for records about individuals to the extent your request seeks the listed information. Part 3 includes general information about FBI records, searches, and programs.

Part 1: The standard responses below apply to all requests:

- (i) 5 U.S.C. § 552(c). Congress excluded three categories of law enforcement and national security records from the requirements of the FOIPA [5 U.S.C. § 552(c)]. FBI responses are limited to those records subject to the requirements of the FOIPA. Additional information about the FBI and the FOIPA can be found on the www.fbi.gov/foia website.
- (ii) Intelligence Records. To the extent your request seeks records of intelligence sources, methods, or activities, the FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(1), (b)(3), and as applicable to requests for records about individuals, PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(1), (b)(3), and (j)(2)]. The mere acknowledgment of the existence or nonexistence of such records is itself a classified fact protected by FOIA exemption (b)(1) and/or would reveal intelligence sources, methods, or activities protected by exemption (b)(3) [50 USC § 3024(i)(1)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that any such records do or do not exist.

Part 2: The standard responses below apply to all requests for records on individuals:

- (i) Requests for Records about any Individual—Watch Lists. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of any individual's name on a watch list pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(7)(E) and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(7)(E), (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that watch list records do or do not exist.
- (ii) Requests for Records about any Individual—Witness Security Program Records. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records which could identify any participant in the Witness Security Program pursuant to FOIA exemption (b)(3) and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(3), 18 U.S.C. 3521, and (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that such records do or do not exist.
- (iii) Requests for Records for Incarcerated Individuals. The FBI can neither confirm nor deny the existence of records which could reasonably be expected to endanger the life or physical safety of any incarcerated individual pursuant to FOIA exemptions (b)(7)(E), (b)(7)(F), and PA exemption (j)(2) [5 U.S.C. §§ 552/552a (b)(7)(E), (b)(7)(F), and (j)(2)]. This is a standard response and should not be read to indicate that such records do or do not exist.

Part 3: General Information:

- (i) Record Searches. The Record/Information Dissemination Section (RIDS) searches for reasonably described records by searching systems or locations where responsive records would reasonably be found. A standard search normally consists of a search for main files in the Central Records System (CRS), an extensive system of records consisting of applicant, investigative, intelligence, personnel, administrative, and general files compiled by the FBI per its law enforcement, intelligence, and administrative functions. The CRS spans the entire FBI organization, comprising records of FBI Headquarters, FBI Field Offices, and FBI Legal Attaché Offices (Legats) worldwide; Electronic Surveillance (ELSUR) records are included in the CRS. Unless specifically requested, a standard search does not include references, administrative records of previous FOIPA requests, or civil litigation files. For additional information about our record searches, visit www.fbi.gov/services/information-management/foipa/requesting-fbi-records.
- (ii) FBI Records. Founded in 1908, the FBI carries out a dual law enforcement and national security mission. As part of this dual mission, the FBI creates and maintains records on various subjects; however, the FBI does not maintain records on every person, subject, or entity.
- (iii) Requests for Criminal History Records or Rap Sheets. The Criminal Justice Information Services (CJIS) Division provides Identity History Summary Checks – often referred to as a criminal history record or rap sheet. These criminal history records are not the same as material in an investigative “FBI file.” An Identity History Summary Check is a listing of information taken from fingerprint cards and documents submitted to the FBI in connection with arrests, federal employment, naturalization, or military service. For a fee, individuals can request a copy of their Identity History Summary Check. Forms and directions can be accessed at www.fbi.gov/about-us/cjis/identity-history-summary-checks. Additionally, requests can be submitted electronically at www.edo.cjis.gov. For additional information, please contact CJIS directly at (304) 625-5590.
- (iv) National Name Check Program (NNCP). The mission of NNCP is to analyze and report information in response to name check requests received from federal agencies, for the purpose of protecting the United States from foreign and domestic threats to national security. Please be advised that this is a service provided to other federal agencies. Private Citizens cannot request a name check.

Attention: Mr. John [REDACTED] Wilson

Dear Mr. Wilson:

We are in receipt of your letter dated January 17, 2005, to the U.S. Department of Justice (DOJ), Office of Inspector General. DOJ forwarded this correspondence to the Initial processing Unit (IPU), Internal Investigations Section, Inspection Division, Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), for our review. The IIS is the FBI entity that provides thorough, high quality, fair, consistent, and timely review and investigation into complaints of criminality and/or serious misconduct against FBI employees.

In the above-referenced letter, you allege that an unidentified Undercover FBI Special Agent (SA) apparently disclosed confidential information to you originating from the U.S. State Department regarding a fatal Grasberg mining accident in Indonesia. You advised that you published an article about the accident at the Freeport McMoran owned Grasberg mine in 1996 and, since its publication, you allege having been contacted by numerous individuals who identified themselves to you as FBI agents, specifically SA Steven Garber, New York; SA Livingston Sutro, Arizona, and SA Susan Holmes, Washington, D.C. A review of our records revealed that the above-named individuals are not employed by the FBI.

Inasmuch as the information provided contains no credible allegations of misconduct by any FBI personnel, IPU has determined that your complaint does not warrant the initiation of an investigation. We consider this matter closed.

Sincerely,

Do you have the hardcopy paperwork for complaint # 1245. [REDACTED] received a call from Congressional Affairs (CA) on this matter. When you are available, may I come over and close the loop on this. I spoke to the CA a few minutes ago and they advised what information they are seeking. I am sure you already know what they want.

Details:

The following information was provided by Complainant regarding allegations of misconduct by FBI SAs. In 1996, an UC FBI SA leaked information to the Complainant regarding a "confidential" reprimand by the U.S. State Department regarding the Freeport-McMoran's Grasberg mine in Indonesia. According to the Complainant, the UC FBI SA gave him details of the State Department's findings regarding an incident in which seven people associated with the Grasberg mine were killed. In 1996, the Complainant published information regarding the killings. (It should be noted that the Complainant does not provide any specifics regarding his publication.) The Complainant, a senior equity analyst, believes the FBI is responsible for his inability to obtain a job in the financial services industry. The Complainant stated that he was interviewed "extensively" by the Subjects following his 1996 publication. According to the Complainant, he was unable to obtain any information as a result of an October 2004 FOIA request to the FBI.

Dear Sir:

I write because of the oversight responsibilities of your office. I was a mining company equity analyst on Wall Street from 1994 to 1998. I am a citizen of the U.S.A., was born in Australia, and have long lived in the United States, principally in New York and Philadelphia, where I received my MBA degree from Wharton. I am currently visiting family for an extended stay in Australia.

In 1996, in the course of performing my duties, information was leaked to me by a then undisclosed FBI agent who worked undercover as an environmentalist. This person gave me details of a State Department finding into an incident in which 7 people were recently killed in and around the publicly traded Freeport McMoran owned Grasberg mine in Indonesia. The information I received related to a confidential reprimand of the company by the U.S. Department of State for human rights and environmental abuses.

Since then, as set out below, I have been subjected to what appears to be a systematic retaliation campaign by persons associated with the FBI involving invasive and injurious tactics. Among other things, I have faced blacklisting in my industry. I have been unable to gain any employment in the financial services industry despite a recent boom in the mining sector and despite having worked on Wall Street for 6 years, mostly as a senior equity analyst.

For the many years following my 1996 publication regarding the Freeport McMoran killings, I have had many contacts with people who at some point revealed themselves as FBI agents on assignment connected to me, and who let me know that I angered important people by the publication. Some of these individuals engendered friendship with me under the auspices of other professional identities and each has interviewed me, two of them extensively. These include Steven Garber, now of White Plains, New York, formerly of New York City, Susan Holmes, now of Washington, D.C., formerly of New York City, and Livingston Sutro, of Sierra Vista, Arizona.

Aside from these agents, more than a dozen other people have identified themselves to me as having a high level of familiarity with these circumstances and appear to be FBI agents or associated with agents.

Given the fact that the source of the leaked information was itself an FBI agent and given the powerful business interests of Freeport, I am concerned that I am the subject of what appears to be either a case of FBI corruption or incompetence. The agent that passed to me the information about Freeport was a long term friend who targeted environmental extremists, and I am concerned I may have been maliciously profiled to justify the intense scrutiny I have faced.

An FOIA request to the FBI in October, 2004 yielded no information whatsoever.

I look forward to hearing from you. The most convenient means by which to correspond with me are through my attorney (details indicated above), alternatively via email.

Sincerely yours,

John Wilson

Details:

The following information was provided by Complainant regarding allegations of misconduct by FBI SAs. In 1996, an UC FBI SA leaked information to the Complainant regarding a "confidential" reprimand by the U.S. State Department regarding the Freeport-McMoran's Grasberg mine in Indonesia. According to the Complainant, the UC FBI SA gave him details of the State Department's findings regarding an incident in which seven people associated with the Grasberg mine were killed. In 1996, the Complainant published information regarding the killings. (It should be noted that the Complainant does not provide any specifics regarding his publication.) The Complainant, a senior equity analyst, believes the FBI is responsible for his inability to obtain a job in the financial services industry. The Complainant stated that he was interviewed "extensively" by the Subjects following his 1996 publication. According to the Complainant, he was unable to obtain any information as a result of an October 2004 FOIA request to the FBI.

Dear Sir:

I write because of the oversight responsibilities of your office. I was a mining company equity analyst on Wall Street from 1994 to 1998. I am a citizen of the U.S.A., was born in Australia, and have long lived in the United States, principally in New York and Philadelphia, where I received my MBA degree from Wharton. I am currently visiting family for an extended stay in Australia.

In 1996, in the course of performing my duties, information was leaked to me by a then undisclosed FBI agent who worked undercover as an environmentalist. This person gave me details of a State Department finding into an incident in which 7 people were recently killed in and around the publicly traded Freeport McMoran owned Grasberg mine in Indonesia. The information I received related to a confidential reprimand of the company by the U.S. Department of State for human rights and environmental abuses.

Since then, as set out below, I have been subjected to what appears to be a systematic retaliation campaign by persons associated with the FBI involving invasive and injurious tactics. Among other things, I have faced blacklisting in my industry. I have been unable to gain any employment in the financial services industry despite a recent boom in the mining sector and despite having worked on Wall Street for 6 years, mostly as a senior equity analyst.

For the many years following my 1996 publication regarding the Freeport McMoran killings, I have had many contacts with people who at some point revealed themselves as FBI agents on assignment connected to me, and who let me know that I angered important people by the publication. Some of these individuals engendered friendship with me under the auspices of other professional identities and each has interviewed me, two of them extensively. Aside from these agents, more than a dozen other people have identified themselves to me as having a high level of familiarity with these circumstances and appear to be FBI agents or associated with agents.

Given the fact that the source of the leaked information was itself an FBI agent and given the powerful business interests of Freeport, I am concerned that I am the subject of what appears to be either a case of FBI corruption or incompetence. The agent that passed to me the information about Freeport was a long term friend who targeted environmental extremists, and I am concerned I may have been maliciously profiled to justify the intense scrutiny I have faced.

An FOIA request to the FBI in October, 2004 yielded no information whatsoever.

I look forward to hearing from you. The most convenient means by which to correspond with me are through my attorney (details indicated above), alternatively via email.

John Wilson
